

School will greet new students at annual tea dance

January freshmen will get their first taste of college social life Thursday at the Student Council's annual tea dance.

Lambert Bartax and his orchestra are furnishing the music for the affair. It will be held in the university auditorium from 4 to 6 in the afternoon.

Admission will be by activity card. All OU students are invited but no non-students will be admitted.

Members of the Student Council committee for the dance are Marge Mahoney, Marge Hunt, Jackie Smith and Lenard Best. Miss Mahoney is chairman.

Geography stressed for trade students

Students who look forward to positions in world trade need to study geography—both economic and human, according to A. J. Kelly, World Trade Institute speaker.

Kelly, official of an international shipping firm, spoke Tuesday.

He said that while languages, particularly Spanish and French, are useful, they are not the whole story of preparation for international trade jobs.

His topic for the evening was "Organization for Export" with four subheadings: personnel, packing, shipping, and marine insurance.

Next Tuesday, the institute will hear a talk on financing export trade by Bror Unge, Kansas City banker.

Henry's 'serene cats' make playhouse debut

Everyone gets into the act at the Community Playhouse—including Dr. Henry's cats.

The script of the recent play, "With Sirens Blowing," called for a little boy to carry two "calm and serene cats" onto the stage. The felines originally "signed" for the role didn't quite fit the part. They fought and they spit; they scratched and they bit.

Director Kendrick Wilson ordered a change in cast, or rather in cats. And so, Tinker and Tinker Toy, the Henry household pets, made their successful stage debut under the proud eye of their master and mistress, Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Henry.

Students earn honor awards

Winners of OU scholarships for the second semester have been announced by Dean of Students John W. Lucas.

A freshman was awarded a work-fellowship for the second semester at the university. Carol Jean Miles was given the award in Business Administration by the Women's Division of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce.

OU students receiving honor tuition certificates for the second semester are: Berkley Forsythe, Esther Beckner, Patricia Fletcher, Vincent Kershaw, and Jean Reid.

Four North High January graduates have been given honor tuition certificates by the University of Omaha. The certificates cover the second semester of the 1948-49 school year and the first semester of the 1949-50 school year. Those who received the honor tuition certificates are: Evelyn Frances Bowerman, Mary Lea Houghton, John Leach and W. Dale Womer.

Each certificate is worth about $75. They are awarded on the basis of high grades and worthiness.

'Iron Hoss' ends term here soon

Charlie Brock has resigned from the university's Athletic Department.

He has accepted a position as assistant coach with the Green Bay Packers of the National Professional Football League.

Brock will wind up his affairs at the university by March 1. He will begin his new job immediately, making a tour of the schools in the Big Seven and Big Nine to interview prospective Packers.

Brock deliberated for a week before accepting the Green Bay offer. He will rejoin the team on which he was an all-time great at center for nine years.

"A difficult decision" "This has been a difficult decision to make," Brock told President Milo Bail. "It came only after much deliberation and only because of the considerable increase in salary and the real opportunities for excellent coaching experience."

"My relationship with you and the other staff members of the university has been a decidedly pleasant one. I feel that I have made many friends here, and it is my sincere hope that Omaha University will continue to grow and progress as it has."

Brock at present is directing the B team basketball squad which has won seven of eight games this season. The Papoose season winds up just before Brock leaves.

Brock has been football line coach for the past season. The Indians won five games, defeating Washburn, Morningside, Doane, Nebraska Wesleyan and Westmar, and lost four under Brock and Head Coach Lloyd Cardwell.

Commenting on Brock's resignation, President Bail said "It is with sincere regret that we lose Brock from the athletic staff. He has been an outstanding man, not only in the coaching field, but also with our young men in the university."

Was pro player-coach "However, this new opportunity is so advantageous that we can well understand why Mr. Brock cannot turn it down. We wish him the greatest success in his work with the Packers."

Brock was a player-coach at Green Bay for two years before joining the university's staff in June of 1948.

"We are going to feel Charlie's loss keenly," Athletic Director Virg Yelkin said.

"It's going to be difficult to find a suitable replacement."

Yelkin said he would confer with President Bail on the type of person who will best fit into the overall picture of the Athletic Department. He promised that the ex-

School opening is delayed by rough winter weather

School made a late entrance this morning as it opened after a two-day setback.

Snow, sleet and cold caused the delay by fouling up last week's exam schedule. Tests on Monday and Friday were cancelled and carried forward to this week.

In spite of the early-morning announcement Monday that exams had been called off, an estimated 75 per cent showed up for their 8 a.m. tests. This was avoided Friday as postponement news went on the air Thursday night.

The canceled Monday exams were carried forward to Monday of this week and the Friday tests moved up to Tuesday. This delayed counseling until Wednesday.

The deadline for locker renewals is at 4 this afternoon. Combinations on unrenovated lockers will be changed Saturday morning and the lockers will be issued to students on Monday.

Night school sign up

Late registration is going on today for new, transfer and regular students who still have to sign up. Regular registration ended yesterday.

New and transfer students, who total about 200 according to Registrar Alice C. Smith, attended a general assembly in the auditorium yesterday.

Night school registration began yesterday and will continue till noon tomorrow. Classes in the School of Adult Education will begin Monday.

Economic diagnosis is Crane's lecture topic

"Economic Diagnosis and the Medicine Men" will be discussed by Roderic Crane, head of the Economics Department, Wednesday evening at 8 in the faculty club-room.

Crane will consider how far the science of economics has progressed in its appraisal of the "boom and bust" disease. He will also point out the status of the remedial arts of economic medicine men.

This will be the third in a series of faculty lectures. They are free and open to the public.

Mossholder made 'king' for a night

Faculty member Robert L. Mossholder became King Mossholder I the night of Jan. 21st.

The Journalism professor's crown was a feather-bedecked copy reader's eyeshade; his scepter, a blue pencil stuck in a miniature ball bat.

It was all part of a "Mossholder Appreciation Night," staged by former and present Journalism students and their guests at the Regis Hotel.

Most of the students had been placed in jobs by Mossholder. They represented the radio, newspaper and publicity fields.

They presented him with a desk pen set.

Student Robert Rousek and Acting Alumni Secretary Joan Sorenson made arrangements for the dinner and the program.

About 30 people attended the affair.

Seniors start on graduation plans

Graduation activities of the 1949 class got underway recently.

Approximately 150 seniors met in room 385 to discuss and vote upon a class program for their last week of school.

The group elected Roderic B. Crane, head of the Economics Department, and R. Wayne Wilson, assistant professor of Business Administration, class sponsors.

A senior banquet was decided to which married students may bring their wives or husbands. Later the same evening a dance will be held for all seniors and their dates.

Other matters decided upon included plans to have a class day and the presentation of a gift and a tree to the university. Class officers Byron Miller, Wentworth Clarke and Jeane Thomsen were given the authority to pick committee heads. They in turn will choose their members.

Senior Class President Byron Miller presided.

Bail slates meet

President Bail is slated to attend the 54th annual meeting of the North Central Association March 28 through April 1 in Chicago.

Dr. Bail is chairman of the association's Research and Service Committee as well as a member of the Executive Committee.

Pep songs arranged; parts must be copied

Plans for the Feb. 24th All-School Convocation to determine the winner of the $100 Pep Song Contest were moving ahead late Wednesday.

The five songs to be judged at the convocation have been arranged by V. J. Kennedy, assistant professor of music. However, the parts will have to be copied for the band.

Joan Sorenson, acting Alumni Secretary, said Wednesday that those who want their songs back may pick them up in the Alumni Office, room 310B.

The Pep Song Contest is co-sponsored by the Alumni Association and The Gateway.

Play field narrowed

The spring play search field was narrowed to two at the last University Players meeting, and the players hope to make their final choice within the next few days.

The plays under consideration are "Pygmalion" by George Bernard Shaw, and "The Late George Apley," an adaptation of the novel by J. P. Marquand.

Bulletin board, Brotherhood Week get Student Council's attention

Glass doors get o.k.

Glass doors for the student bulletin board were okayed at the Student Council meeting Jan. 19.

The doors cost $35. Because of a price saving, the council voted that the doors be hinged rather than sliding.

Responding to a suggestion that more chairs be placed in Pow Wow Inn, the council appointed Mark Gautier and Lenard Best to an investigating committee. Gautier was named chairman.

Another suggestion called for shorter activity cards and athletic booklets. Present ones are too long for most billfolds, it stated. The council agreed and recommended that this be considered when new cards are designed.

Next council meeting will be Wednesday afternoon at 3 in room 289.

Boost Indians tomorrow

Indian basketballers will be out for their sixth straight victory tomorrow night at Tech High. They'll need your support. For details on the game see page 3.

Dance groups report

OU will celebrate Brotherhood Week with the nation.

This was decided at the Student Council meeting Wednesday afternoon.

The idea, stemming from a suggestion in the student "Beef Box," received unanimous approval from the council. The brotherhood program is scheduled for the same time as National Brotherhood Week.

Two other student suggestions were not acted upon because the signatures had been omitted.

Marjory Mahoney, Ma-je Day Dance Committee chairman, and Ruth Jorgenson, chairman of the Spring Formal Dance Committee, reported that plans are almost completed for the two affairs. The selection of the Ma-je Day orchestra is to be based on recordings from several different orchestras.

The possibility of having salads and Italian dressing in the Snack Shack was also up for discussion. Wentworth Clarke was designated as the one-man investigating committee.

Mlle fiction contest prizes total $1,000

A College Fiction Contest offering $1,000 in prizes is being sponsored by Mademoiselle Magazine. The contest is open only to undergraduate women.

All entries must be postmarked no later than midnight, April 15, 1949, according to Mademoiselle's College Board Editor. The manuscripts should be typewritten, double spaced and on one side of the paper only. It should run from 3,000 to 5,000 words.

Mademoiselle editors will do the contest judging and $500 each will be awarded to authors of the two best stories. The magazine will buy other acceptable stories at their regular rates.

Entries should carry the contestant's name, home address, college address and college year. They should be sent to the College Fiction Contest, Mademoiselle, 122 East 42 Street, New York 17, New York.

"Charlie is the type of person who will succeed well in any job and we wish him every success in his new undertaking," Yelkin stated.

A member of the famous athletic family of Columbus, Neb., he won All-America and all-conference honors in his college football heydays at the University of Nebraska.

The "Iron Hoss" teamed with Cardwell, the "Wild Hoss," and Virg Yelkin, OU's athletic director, on Cornhusker teams of '36, '37 and '38.

Brock played in the East-West All-Star game and the Chicago All-Star game in 1938 before joining the Packers. During his nine years at Green Bay he was captain of the squad four years. He was an All-Pro selection several years and was voted to the All-Time Packer team.

Physics students will get 'charge'

The Physics Department has a "shocking" addition.

A variable type transformer was purchased recently, permitting experiments that were impossible before.

When plugged into the central control panel, the transformer will enable the instructor to provide each desk with alternating current from zero to 126 volts.

The transformer is being mounted by H. P. Stearns, physics instructor. Clyde Hiatt, building engineer, aided in the work on the base.

Old frills & loafing now being called vital

Logan, U t a h. (IP)—Out-of-classroom activities, once looked upon as frills and loafing, are now being recognized throughout the nation as a vital part of college education.

This is the opinion of Dr. Daryl Chase, dean of students at Utah State Agricultural College. Dean Chase recently returned from a three week trip throughout the east in which he searched for information pertaining to the making of a perfect union building.

One of the outstanding characteristics of a good union building is a flexible cafeteria which can be used as ballroom space, he said. Dean Chase pointed out such a cafeteria should be able to hold 2,200 couples.

In most of the colleges the dean visited, the union building was a "hive of activity." In his opinion the most beautiful union building is that of the University of Illinois.

Many nice people are common through the rye.

GREASEPAINT AND NEW WAX

Since Columbia and Victor have already started a new multi-billion dollar record battle, it looks like we're faced with three types of discs, involving three kinds of needles, grooves and machine speed. And now, both giants are inviting their competitors to use their record speeds.

The most logical thing for us to do is to buy the brand that has all or most of our favorite artists in their catalogue. If you like Columbia's stable of entertainers, you can buy a record player with 31 1-3 revolutions per minute; if Victor's your favorite, you'll be able to buy a turntable with 45 r.p.m. And other manufacturers are about equally divided in the speed they'll use.

One thing for sure: we'll get more compact records, with better reproduction quality, at a more reasonable price.

But, don't forget: for an indefinite time to come, all the companies will continue to put out all their records on 78 r.p.m. discs, so that with your present phonograph you can always get any artist you want on any song you want.

Hoff returns from trip to west coast

Charles Hoff, the university's finance secretary, returned from his west coast junket last Friday.

He visited regional conferences of the National Association of Educational Buyers. Mr. Hoff is president of the organization.

He attended meetings in Logan, Utah; Tacoma, Wash.; San Francisco and Los Angeles.

He took her gently in his arms
And pressed her to his breast.
The lovely color left her face
And lodged on his full dress.

Plainsmen play at Tech tomorrow

Slogr's return boosts Omaha court stock

Indian cagers will shoot for their sixth straight and ninth win of the season tomorrow night against Nebraska Wesleyan on the Tech court.

Coach Charley Brock's Papooses will open the double header with a 6:30 prelim against the Wesleyan B squad. The Brockmen have been beaten once this season and own eight victories.

Coach Don Pflasterer's cage stock took a jump with the announcement that Frank Slogr, Indian scoring leader last year, is returning for second semester duty.

However, the loss of little Billy Holderness may hurt the Red and Black defensively.

Since meeting the Indians Jan. 7, the Plainsmen have added three wins and two losses to their cage record. They have beaten York (49-43), Hastings (64-59) and Midland (58-51).

Wesleyan improving

Kearney and Wayne beat Wesleyan 64-52 and 52-46, respectively.

Earlier this season the Red and Black eked out a 46-44 win over the Lincoln club in the capitol city Omaha was pushed throughout the game and reverted to a last min

Indian six nudges ice loop leaders

OU skaters jumped into second place in amateur hockey competition the past two weeks with one point victories over Russells and league-leading Falstaffs.

Jim Wharton, hard skating Indian defenseman, put his hockey stick to good use Jan. 26. He fired both goals past netminder Dick Kurtz as the Red and Black nudged Falstaffs, 2-1.

The usually potent Falstaff offense found a stone wall in Goalie John Jones for most of the game. Bob Remm managed the only Falstaff tally in the second period. The loss was the Brewers' first in six weeks.

A week earlier Coach Fred Gibbon's lads overcame a three goal deficit to grab a 4-3 thriller from the Russell Sports skaters. Greg Longley flipped the clinching shot past Goalie Weir in the third period to give the Indians their second victory of the season.

Aggie transfer lifts Indian wrestle stock

OU's wrestling stock took a big boost last week when equipment was checked out to Rich Nigro, a second semester transfer from Oklahoma A and M.

Nigro, an Omaha Central boy and Nebraska State High School Champion in the 118-pound class for two years, attended the Oklahoma school on an athletic scholarship and won the intramural 121-pound championship at the mat-crazy college this fall.

The former Aggie will be bidding for the Indian 121 berth for the coming St. Ambrose match here February 26.

Coach Allie Morrison's squad resumed practice Wednesday after a week and a half layoff during examinations. Morrison urges all boys interested in the mat sport to come out whether experienced or not.

A girl may love you from the bottom of her heart, but there's always room for some other guy at the top.

Hut fives begin league play today

After a torrid elimination tournament, intramural basketball teams are now playing in four three-team leagues.

Quintets dropping their foes twice and losing none are in league No. 1. They are South, Alpha Sigs and North. Outstate, Tech and Delta Beta won their first game but dropped their second so they enter league No. 2.

Teams losing the first game and winning the second go into league No. 3. Central, Benson and Phi Sigs compose this group.

Alpha Phi, Theta and Beta Tau Kappa lost both contests and will be placed in league No. 4. (Confusing, isn't it?)

Outstate's Newell Breyfogle was the outstanding offensive star during the pre-season tourney. He rammed home 18 points against Alpha Sigs and picked up 14 markers against Tech.

League play will begin tonight in the Quonset Hut.

OU scalps Redmen again, 59-55

Omaha University's basketball team emphasized two ideas during its 59-55 overtime victory over Simpson on the Indianola, Iowa, floor Tuesday.

1. A team that hits its free throws can win ball games even though it is outscored from the field.

2. A team that combines hustle with cucumber coolness often grasps victory in the waning minutes.

And, evidently Coach Don Pflasterer is the source of each idea. Of late, most of the Indians hit and miss practice have consisted of free throw sessions.

Old reliable

Pflasterer has also shown preference to reliables Guy Oberg, Ernie Flecky and Ray Schmidt when the going gets rough.

Result—the Indians calmly stepped to the gift toss line and swished 11 free throws in a row against Simpson. Oberg scored 19 points including a game-tying basket in the last seconds of regulation time and two overtime buckets to lead all scorers.

Schmidt coolly sank two free throws in the hectic extra period. Flecky hoisted in 14 points including the game clinching two-point-er.

The win was the eighth of the season for the Red and Black and the fifth in a row.

Leffler is Satan at Phi Delt dance

The Phi Delt's "Devil Dance" at Peony Park Jan. 28 was a "warm" relief from sub-zero weather.

Jerry Leffler, Alpha Sig, was presented as Satan, king of the devils, during intermission. He was elected by guests at the dance. His gift was a suit of long red underwear, which he modeled on the dance floor.

Sponsor George Rayburn was made Dean of the Devils for the evening.

The meanest Phi Delt pledge, Shirley Welniak, and the sweetest, Irene Squire, were given gifts.

Pat Hasch and Anna Marie Weber were mistresses of ceremonies.

Decorations carried out the Hades theme. Eddie Haddad's orchestra played for the informal dance.

Other faculty sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. George S. Pritchard and Mr. and Mrs. R. Wayne Wilson.

Mary Wallace sets fall wedding date

Mary Wallace . . . plans fall wedding.

The engagement of Mary Louise Wallace to Paul E. Kuster has been announced by Miss Wallace's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy G. Wallace. Kuster is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben W. Kuster.

Miss Wallace is a sophomore at the University of Omaha. The couple plans a September wedding.

Marriages

Wedding bells rang out over the snowdrifts during January for former and present university students.

Frye-Sigler

The marriage of Jeannine Frye and Robert T. Sigler was announced Jan. 23. The wedding took place Dec. 29 at Seward, Nebr.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Sigler attend the University of Omaha.

Deal-Baker

Mary Jane Deal became the bride of William A. Baker Jan. 15 at Missouri Valley, Ia. The ceremony was performed in the Christian Church there.

Mrs. Baker is a sophomore student at the university.

Schill-Isaacson

The Methodist Church at Harcourt, Ia. was the scene of the marriage of Carolyn Schill and Joseph Isaacson Jan. 29.

The bride is a 1947 graduate of the university.

Social Register

Back to the woods went the Sigma Tau Deltas on Jan. 16—spiritually, not physically.

Thoreau's Walden was the honorary English fraternity's topic of discussion at their regular monthly meeting.

The meeting was held at the home of Beverly Bush.

Members of the program committee were Mesdames Carl Helmstadter, Mildred Gearhart, Don Pfisterer, James Earl, Wilfred Desmarais and Henry.

Engagements

Schall-Bihler

Geraldine Elizabeth Schall is engaged to Alfred S. Bihler, university sophomore. He is a member of Alpha Sigma Lambda. The couple has not set a date for the wedding.

Gilliland-Mathews

Beverly Ann Gilliland will marry Cecil R. Mathews Jr., a freshman at OU. The wedding date has not been named.

Kramer-Feldman

Elaine Joy Kramer is betrothed to Maurice Feldman, graduate of Omaha U. No date has been set.

Singent-Reinhardt

The engagement of Margaret Eileen Singent to George William Reinhardt has been announced. Reinhardt is an OU graduate and was affiliated with Phi Sigma Phi. They have not named the wedding date.

Engagement heard of Snyder, Tanner

Mr. and Mrs. Halbert S. Snyder have announced the engagement of their daughter, Lila Mae Snyder, to James Tanner, son of H. J. Tanner.

Miss Snyder is a freshman at the University of Omaha where she is a member of Gamma Sigma Omicron.

No wedding date has been set.
